A message made at Pearl Abyss'Black Desert Global Lab offers some enticing new pieces of content for Black Desert players, especially if these players ever wanted to travel on the back of a pegasus. And frankly, who wouldn't? People who make mistakes, that's who. This new level 10 mountain is known as Dreamy Arduanat (according to Google Translation, so basically the real name of TBD) that can be achieved by training men and women of Arduanat, as well as some additional materials received from the delivery of horses to the imperial family. This new mountain has a unique look as well as some completely unique skills. In addition, a new map known as Gamos' Nest has appeared on the Red Battlefield. This card will have players fighting Gamos' attacking enemies, and also has a monster that is called to the center of the nest. The team that destroys this so-called Gamos Disaster (again, Google Translate) will see the boss unleash a flame attack in the area within one minute that damages all other teams. PA also notes the Nightmare version of Kzarka's world boss, which predictably has stronger attacks as well as better loot to defeat him, a few class adjustments, and a number of other changes like PEN Accessory price increases, Guild Boss Reconstruction, and Knot War Changes. You can get rundown of these pending updates in the video from YouTuber Anders below. Source: Black Desert Global Lab via YouTube Dream Horses (Level 9) is not available from breeding and take a lot of time and effort to achieve. There are 3 types of dream horses. Pegasus (Arduanat) - This horse is a dream winged horse that uses its big wings to safely fall from high places. They do not fly but can jump off rocks and safely slide down at high speeds. Unicorn (Dino) - This dream horse is a friendly mountain that can buff goals to give them a higher DP/Evasion and can also heal them. The unicorn is a supportive mountain that can prove useful in battle, as well as the only horse that is unspeakable in the Valencia desert slowly. Doom - This dream horse is not as fast as other dream horses, but has more powerful attacks and stronger horse skills that scale with your AP. They use fire and explosions to destroy their enemies in battle. Training your horse You will need a level 30 Tier 8 horse with the following skills: Charge Drift Sprint Instant Acceleration Side Step S: Instant Acceleration S: Side Step It is also known as a Courser horse and it will have the gold horse symbol in the top right corner of its badge. For more tips on how to get a Tier 8 Courser, check out our training guide, which explains how to increase your chances of getting the skills you need. Put the horse in the stables at Stonetail Horse Ranch or Grana (Melabi West). Make sure it doesn't have Gears are equipped or items in the inventory. The Courser Training option will be available at the bottom. The training window will open. Here you can train your horse in 3 different fields: Skills Skills Elegance Training and strength training. You have to consume some materials to train the horse in different types of exercise. Every time you use 1 material, you increase its exp training by 1%. You can get a maximum of 180% exp in training, which give you a 90% chance of getting that particular horse. In order to wake the horse, you will need a 200% training total across all areas of training. For example: 60% exp in skills training - 100% exp in Elegance Training - 40% exp in strength training - 200% of total 0% exp in Skill Training - 100% exp in Elegance Training - 100% exp in Strength Training - 200% of all 180% exp in skills training and 20% exp in Elegance Training - 0% exp in Strength Training - 200% of total Going above 200% total training will increase your chances of success but not worth it because it doesn't increase your chances of much and you spend a lot of materials that can be used on extra attempts. Below is a list of what materials you should consume to align each learning area: (alignment will increase the chances of getting Pegasus): Fruit Rainbow Gem - Exchange Shiny Golden Seal - Imperial Delivery x10. You can also get them by exchanging Peridot Petal x10, which are a reward from daffodils of Magic Sealing Stone bundles. Stone Tail Feed - Use simple cooking to mix any by-products of agriculture (plant with rotting roots, seeds half eaten by poultry, premature fruit, mutant plant). This is the easiest of materials to get. Once you reach Artisan 1 in agriculture, use the magic seeds on your farm and breed them to get a large amount of agricultural by-products. Check out our agricultural guide for more information. Elegance Training (alignment this will increase the chances of getting a Unicorn): Spirit bag of ferocious beast - has a rare chance of being plundered while cutting a Hulk or Blue Whale. You can also get them by exchanging Peridot Petal x10, which are a reward from daffodils of Magic Sealing Stone bundles, or exchanging Hunter Hunter tokens x25. Breezy Konch seaweed - has a rare chance to be gained while fishing. You can also get them by exchanging Peridot Petal x10, which are a reward from daffodils of Magic Sealing Stone bundles. Strength training (alignment this will increase the chances of getting Doom): Pure forest breathing - has a rare chance of being plundered from monsters. You can also combine 2 of any Spirit Stone fragments x10 (simple cooking). They gather in Peridot Leaf daily quests (video) and as a rare fall from the monsters in Kamaslyvia. Deep Blue Hoof Root - has a rare chance to be gained when collecting. You can also exchange Peridot x7 leaves for Deep Blue Hoof Root. You can collect them by completing the daily Kamaslyvia quests. Check Video for all Peridot Leaf daily quests. You can also get one piece by completing a daily quest at Stonetail Horse Ranch. The quest involves capturing a wild horse. Awakening the horse Once your horse has a total of 200% exp or higher in it can be awakened. You'll need one final material to awaken the horse: The Krogdalo Origin Stone - Use Simple Alchemy, to combine: Swaying Wind Fragment x25 - (exchange Brilliant Gold Seal - Imperial Preparation or Horse Race Print x2) Earth Rumble Fragment x25 - ((Sharing Brilliant Gold Seal - Imperial Training OR Horse Race Seal x2) Rumble Earth Fragment x25 - (sharing Brilliant Gold Seal - Imperial Training x2 OR Horse Race Seal) You can also get a small amount of swaying wind fragments and crashing Earth fragments from Peridot Leaf daily quests (video) and can exchange Peridot Leaf x15 for swaying wind fragment or crashing fragment of Earth on old Tree of Wisdom. If awakening fails, learning percentage (%) will be reduced to 0% and you will need to train the horse again. You will get the No.1 Awakening failstack, which increases your chances of success on the next try. The formula for developing your chances of success is (1% th (0.2% - failstacks)). This means that every failed attempt increases your chance by 0.2%. You can also use 100 kronor stones when awakening. Using The Cron Stones will reduce the training percentage to 100%, not if it doesn't. If the awakening succeeds, the horse will become Pegasus or Unicorn or Doom (the result is random, but may be influenced by the materials you use to train it). The horse will become a T9 of the same name. The horse will return to Level 1 and will have new stats and skills. It is also important to note that T9 horses cannot breed. The basic chance of success is only 1%, so you are very lucky if it succeeds for the first time. A horse dreaming horse skills can learn any of the skills that a normal horse can learn (except for two Seater skills), as well as special dream horse skills. Learning skills works just like with normal horses and are totally random, but dream horses tend to be smarter and have a higher chance of learning skills. In order to get as many skills as possible on your Dream Horse, you should use the Spirit Courser method. The Spirit Courser skill has a very high chance of being studied. You have a 100% chance of getting to know it at level 1, so you use the Mount Change Skills Coupon to swap it for another skill with a lower chance. Spirit Courser then has a very high chance of it being learned again. Every time your horse levels, test his skills and if he learns spirit courser again, then you can swap him for a different skill. Icon Skill Title Effect Team Learned Chance of Learning Courser Spirit automatically regenerates health and endurance while parking Passive Arduanatt, Dinner, Doom 100% Double Jump Jump for the second time in the air (also can be used with high jump) SPACEBAR while jumping Arduanatt, Dine, Doom 100% S: Performs the second charge immediately, Dinner, Doom 20% Wind Wings Used while double jumps glide into the air. The amount it increases by completely random each level, meaning that some horses may have better stats than others. The stats are not too important, but with better statistics has small advantages for horse speed. The stats break is the most important, but Doom and Unicorn can usually get the maximum break bracket quite easily. Finishing the check of our training guide for more details about horse statistics.
